

IT SECTOR

CASE STUDY

COMPANY PROFILE

Our client is a leading face as far as IT sector is concerned. The IT sector is a very challenging field in which the company has to abide by the IT laws and regulations if it has to protect itself from cyber crimes. In the current era, the theft of credible and price sensitive information is a matter of concern as it results in unquantifiable loss to the industry. The client has devised security policies in the company so as to ensure the secrecy of the data. The IT protocols are followed by everyone to avoid such incidences.

THE CHALLENGE

Due to rise in technology, this industry has seen considerable rise. This Client is spanning over more than 10 locations. As it has many entities at different places the efficient and timely management of legal and mandatory compliances by following legal deadlines becomes crucial. The company has to follow the laws relating to different States and geography. The IT laws and the Cyber cell have devised regulatory measures to keep a check on and maintain the cyber security intact.

Complying with legal formalities is a key area and a cumbersome exercise for the management of such a sector which is spread across various locations. Apart from IT Act and regulation on reasonable security practices, the sector has to abide by various other Acts related to HR, Finance etc. The number of compliance items is quite large and thus compliance management is a vital and critical area to deal with.

Avantis Softech LLP through its "AVACOM" has provided a solution to make the compliance management simple and system based. It has provided separate dashboard to different users including the hotel management to comply with applicable laws and compliances. The users get system based reminders to comply with applicable legal compliances which are based on legal due dates hotel management. This umbrella view dashboard acts as a bird's eye view and facilitates the management to know the status of compliances, the dedicated responsible person and the due dates, etc., in advance.

CONCLUSION

Avantis Softech LLP has provided the management with a compelling solution through technology and automation to become legally compliant while achieving their goals of delivering IT services.

Some of the features in AVACOM product that has helped this group are:

- Enhanced Accountability and Transparency;
- Centralized compliance document management repository;
- Enhanced Process Efficiency with automated workflows;
